World's Fair March, 1904.

Mr. John C. Weber, director of Weber's Military Band of Cincinnati, known as the "Prize Band of America," has composed the St. Louis World's Fair March 1904, and dedicated it to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. It will be distributed through the passenger department of the B. & O. S-W. R. R., World's Fair Route, at 10 cents per copy.

The music is in sheet form, arranged for the piano, being very handsomely gotten up, with highly illuminated title cover. Mr. John C. Weber is not only a great Musical Director, but he has written some very catchy and popular marches. The St. Louis World's Fair March is his latest success, and will add further to his fame.

Mr. Weber and his great organization of artists has twice defeated all comers in national contests at Elks' Reunions. The latest triumph was at Baltimore, Md., on the 21st of last July, when, in a notable contest, composed of the leading bands of America, won the first prize of $1,000. It is confidently expected that Mr. Weber's World's Fair March will become a popular air during the next year, and every household should have a copy of this music.

Send 10 cents in silver to the undersigned and copy of the World's Fair March will be mailed to your address.

'GIRL BRIDES' ARE FEWER.

London Authority Declares Number of Marriages Under Age Is Steadily Growing Less.

The interesting announcement that among the fashionable marriages shortly to be solemnized in London there is an unusual number of "girl brides" has led some people to suppose that fashion is again in favor of early marriages.

This is not so. An official has declared that the average age for matrimony is steadily rising.

"This may be seen," he said, "by the statistics of marriage with minors."

"Between the years 1876-80 the number of male 'infants,' as the law calls them, was 77.8 out of every 1,000 marriages, and of child wives there were 217 per 1,000."

"Every year since then the number has dropped. The last statistics (for 1901) give only 50 husbands and 60 wives who were registered as 'under age' out of every 1,000."

Among the very poor, child marriages are still rather numerous, and in the ranks of the wealth there are also many girl wives.

In the one case extreme poverty is a direct incentive to early marriage, because there is none of that sense of "keeping up a position" which acts as a preventive among the middle classes, and a working wife is looked upon as an additional source of income.

On the other hand, of course, a wealthy man finds no drawback to his position by marrying young.

In the middle class, on the contrary, men with limited incomes are becoming more and more chary of plunging into the "extravagance" of matrimony. The thousand little luxuries of modern days are now looked upon as necessities, and these make life more expensive.

Women also are not content with the same modest households and the same quiet life which satisfied their mothers. Consequently the average age of marriage is constantly rising.

RECORD MARRIAGE CEREMONY

New Jersey Justice Ties Knot in Quick Time of Thirty-Nine Seconds.

Justice of the Peace Frank P. Lehane, of Jersey City, N. J., claims that to him belongs the record of performing the quickest marriage ceremony on record. It was all the fault of the bride, who begged him to "get a move on," as she wanted to catch a train.

"The couple were short a witness when I met them by appointment in a hotel," the justice said. "I called a bell-boy, whom I intended to send for a witness. He popped his head inside the door, and the bride exclaimed: 'What a nice boy! Won't he do?' 'Certainly,' said I, 'if you want him. He's old enough.'"

"Then the couple held hands, the man quickly produced a ring, and I rattled through the ceremony in a jiffy. Time, 39 seconds."

Hay as a Valuable Crop.

Ordinary persons who undertake to name in order the four most valuable crops raised in this country during the past year will probably, if turning to the statistics for verification, lose confidence in the sufficiency of their information. Everybody, of course, would include cotton, and probably a majority would put corn first. But few would include hay, and fewer still would place it above wheat. This, however, is the order—corn, cotton, hay and wheat.

Chance for Somebody.

It seems strange, says the Chicago Daily News, that some of the political patent medicine mixers are not around offering Japan and Russia a superior brand of arbitration warranted to work equally well in cold and warm countries.

SAFE PLACE TO DRAW IT.

College Professor's Sword Was Drawn Without Danger to Anyone's Cuticle.

Prof. E. G. Dexter, of the University of Illinois, whose interesting investigations have proved football to be a harmless game, is popular on account of his geniality, says the New York Tribune.

After a certain football victory Prof. Dexter entertained one night a group of students at his residence.

A magnificent sword hung over the fireplace of the library, and during a space of silence Prof. Dexter took down this sword and brandished it impressively.

"Never will I forget," he exclaimed, "the day I drew this blade for the first time."

"Where did you draw it, sir?" a freshman asked, respectfully.

"At a raffle," said Prof. Dexter.

A Physician's Advice.

Yorktown, Ark., March 7th.—Dodd's Kidney Pills must not be confounded with the ordinary patent medicine. They are a new discovery, a specific for all diseases of the kidneys and have been accepted by physicians only after careful tests in extreme cases. Dr. Leland Williamson, of this place, heartily endorses Dodd's Kidney Pills "as a remedy for the various forms of the diseases of the kidneys, pains in the back, soreness in the region of the kidneys, foul-smelling urine and cloudy or thickened condition of the urine, discharges of pus or corruption, Gout, Rheumatism, Inflammation and Congestion of the kidneys and all kindred complaints."

Continuing, he says: "I could mention many cases in which I have prescribed Dodd's Kidney Pills with success. For instance, Mr. Robert Weeks, farmer, malaria haematuria or swamp fever three times, kidneys weak, continual pain and soreness in back, which made him very nervous, had a little fever and sometimes chills. Urine changeable, but generally very high-colored, an old chronic case who had taken much medicine with little effect. After taking Dodd's Kidney Pills about six weeks, he was entirely cured and had gained fifteen pounds in weight. The last time I saw him, he was the picture of perfect manhood."

In the Right Place.

"How's the new organist?" asked one of the parishioners.

"Oh, he plays beautifully," replied the soprano of the church quartet.—Chicago Post.
